Innov8 UK Group Overview

Innov8 UK Group Limited was founded by Directors Lee Scott and Richard Johnstone, who both began their careers at trainee operative level, working their way up within large asbestos removal contractors and gaining extensive hands-on experience across every role in the industry. Tired of adopting the same old generic methods, they wanted to do things their way — with an innovative approach that treats every project with the site-specific detail, care, and customer service it deserves. Their journey from the tools to the boardroom has shaped Innov8 into a company built on real experience, strong values, and genuine leadership from the ground up.

Together, the management team bring over 50 years of combined experience delivering technical, large-scale asbestos removal projects across every sector — from major government contracts to healthcare, education, commercial, and social housing environments. This depth of knowledge ensures each project is approached with the highest level of competence, compliance, and attention to detail.

As a fully licensed asbestos removal contractor, Innov8 UK Group operates throughout the UK, specialising in the safe management, removal, and disposal of asbestos-containing materials under the strictest safety and quality standards.

Our ethos is simple — lead from the front, maintain an open-door management style, and deliver every project with transparency, quality, and care. Whether it's a small domestic project or a complex commercial contract, Innov8 UK Group remains committed to protecting people, property, and the environment through safe, professional, and compliant asbestos management.
